Thomas Shotbolt.

Tuesday Morning, June 27, 1871. Schools and Roads. It is not always an easy matter to so adjust taxation and apportion expenditure as to mete out even-handed justice to every class of the inhabitants and every locality in the country; and yet the attainment of that result should be the aim of legislation. It has appeared to full within the scope of our duty as a public journalist more than once to point out the gross violation of this true principle of legislation in the case of Nanaimo. It is not our present purpose to revert to the period when certain politicians laying claim to great breadth of view but too successfully opposed the creation of a port of entry at Nanaimo. It is enough to say, generally, that, for some reason or other, Nanaimo has, in a greater degree than any other locality with which we are acquainted, been the victim of injustice both in respect of taxation and expenditure, as well as in respect of the general policy of administration. The second largest and, in proportion to its size, the most largely productive comest consumer of dutiable goods and, therefore, the largest con-tributor towards the public revenue, Nana mo may be said to have been nowlected, legislated down, cut off almost without a shifting. We will not now stop to consider how fur this condition of things may be owing to the wants and claims of Nanaimo not having been presented in the Councils of the Colony with that faithfalness and force they deserved; but it may be remarked, in passing, that under the new system now being inaugurated, it will rest with the people of Nanaimo to say by their votes at the polls whether or not this systemstic injustice shall continue. If the people will only make a wise use of their new-gotten power, such things will be impossible under the new system. Gabriola Island lies directly opposite the magnificent barbor of Nanaimo, and is washed by the Straits of Georgia, the north-western part of it being about four miles distant from the town. It is about eight miles in length, by an average breadth of two miles and five eigths, and contains about thirteen thousand five hundred acres. Although in some portions rough and broken, it contains much excellent land for agricultural purposes. There are at present sixteen settlers on it, all of whom, with one exception, have families, and most of whom have made large improvements. Probably in no part of the colony can more industrious, welldoing and welldeserving settlers be found. These Gabriolites have not been neglected in so far as taxation is concerned. In addition to the heavy taxes which they have to pay, and which their representative in the Legislature would compel them to continue to pay, upon everything they eat and drink and wear of imported kind, they have been made to pay a heavy road tax,—and for what? They have been left to make their own roads, wholly unaided by the Government. And right bravely have they come to the work. The chief settlement ison the lower or more dispersion of the contract of the tant end of the Island: and Mr John Dick and his fellow ettlers have made a waggon road, eight miles in length, a portion of it being over soft ground in-volving a large expenditure of labor. All praise to these industrious, self-reliant men; but surely it is most un-instable their should have been made just that they should have been made to pay a heavy road tax, and yet be left to make their own roads. This is not the way to recognize the value of such settlers. We have said that all the settlers on Gabriola I-land, save one, have families. The suggestion is obvious enough. They need a school. The numenough. They need a school. The number of children is, we believe, over twenty five; and as it has been seen that the nearest part of the Island is about four miles distant from the town of Nanaimo, the sole means of communication therewith being by water, it will scarcely be necessary to say that the children of these valuable settlers must of necessity be educated on Gabriola Island. How is this to be accomplished? Are these sixteen settlers to be left to build a school-house, hire a teacher and maintain a school at their own sole expense, maintain a school at their own role expense, as has been the case with their roads? No; that must not, shall not be. These hards and courageous settlers contribute their share and more than their share towards the public revenue, and they must not be left to struggle on whally unnight and appears to the struggle on whally unnight and appears. struggle on wholly unaided and unen-couraged by the State. They must be met in their manly efforts to create per-manent homes for themselves and their off-pring, in a spirit of justice and kindly recognition on the part of the Government. At the very least their children must be educated and they, themselves, freed from a road-tax for which they have never received the slightest value. Let it not be imagined that Gabriola Island is singular in this respect, because we have singled it out. A notable instance, it is yet only a representative case of assidous attentions on off-pring, in a spirit of justice and tion the public revenue. A. GILMORE, MERCHANT TAILOR, and Gen A. GILMORE, MERCHANT TALLOR, and General Outlitter, has removed his place of business to the store adjoining the Colonial Hote and opposite the Colonist Office, on Government street, fourth door from Yates, where he proposes to give his old friends and new customers a chance on the principle of quick gives and small profite.

DEATH OF AN ACTRESS .- Mrs Sue Robinson Getzler, who will be remembered by residents of Victoria as far back as 1861 as a member of Victoria as far back as 1861 as a member of the first company that performed at the Theatre Royal, died suddenly at Sacramento California, on the 17th inst. In the winter of 1861 Mrs Getzler—then Miss Robinson — was engaged to be married to Capt Jamieson of the steamer Fort Yale It was arranged that the steamer should make one more trip to Yale and that on her return the marriage should take place at New Westmiaster. Succeing Murder in a Court of Justice IN PORTLAND .- On Wednesday morning a colored man named Isaiah Graham was shot and instantly killed by another colored man named Thomas Ward, in the office of T J Dryer, Justice of the Peace and Coroner of Dryer, Justice of the Peace and Coroner of Multnomah county. A scharge of assault had been preferred against Ward by Graham and was being heard by the Justice, when Ward threed toward the witness, and as he did so, drew a Colt's pavy revolver from a pocket in his clothing and advanced toward Graham without saying a word. Graham evidently saw the movement, for he jurped up and retreated rapidly toward the rear and of the norm as if to throw himthe rear end of the room as if to throw himself behind Mr Dryer. He turned, then toward his antagonist, and just as he did so Ward fired. Graham, without speaking, recled a moment and fell nearly under the Justice's table. Mr Dryer instantly sprang to his feet and seized hold of Ward to get the pistol away from him. The latter struggled wirh him a moment as if trying to shoot again, but by the opportune assistance of other bystanders he was in a moment disarmed. The revolver, when taken from him, was found cocked in readiness to fire again. There was some struggling bethe rear and of the room as it to throw him-There was some struggling tween the prisoner and his captors till they got cutside the door, when he gave up and was immediately taken to the coun'y jail by the Justice himself and one or two others whom he summoned. Graham breathed but a moment or two after felling. It is said Graham had seduced Ward's daughter, BARKER'S 'FOUR RIVERS OF THE WEST.'-Mr Stephen Barker may well feel proud of the results which attended the first exhibition at Victoria of his fine panorama. It is true that there were a few 'hitches' in un-rolling the canvas, and that in some of the scenes the light was not effectively toned; yet these are matters of detail which a second exhibition will remedy, and which do not detract from the artistic merit of the paintings. The audience was large and respectable and the applause frequent and well-merited. All of the scenes are natural, and several show artistic telent of a high order The perspective is in all cases good, and the moonlight scenes are exquisitely lovely. The wiew of Victoria is very good; but Yosemite Falls, Moonlight on Puget Sound and Scene on the Yukon River are, in our estimation, the best of the series. Upon the fall of the curts n Mr Barker approunced that he would exhibit once more in this city on Wednesday evening; the announcement was received with cheers.

STRAWBERRY STORY .- A writer in the St Paul (Minn) Press tells the huge strawberry story : He says he has seen scores of miles of country a degree of latitude north of Fort Totten, which was an almost continuous growth of wild strawberries, growing, in many of the richer spaces, not on horizontal vines, but on oushes, many of them three or four feet high, on which the clusters of this delicious fruit attained a size rarely reached by assiduous sul-tivation. So profuse was this native produc-tion of strawberries on what is called the Pembina Mountains, that the cart wheels, crushing the berries as they revolved, were perfectly red with the wild vintage of the plains, and eft long crimson trails, as of blood behind

KALAMA-TY, SURE ENOUGH .- A private letter from Kalama says :- 'The river bottom is all under water. Such a sight I never Baw. They use the care for a walk, and they are nearly covered with water. In some of the houses the water is up to the win-dows. In Second street the water is eight feet deep about 400 feet back from the river So you see it is lively times here tying up the small houses and moving up stairs in the larger once, All work has been stopped on the railroad and there is not any show to do anything. I do not want to try this country much longer.

A SLIGHT MISTAKE. - In noticing the Au ditor General's statement of revenue and expenditure for 1870 our local cotemporary ave:- The actual revenue for 1870 was 495 352, which included $11.306 of eash in bund. It need hardly be remarked that the scual revenue for 1870 did not include $11.306—as how could it? The actual revenue for 1870 was $495 352 61, to which add $11 306 11 balance on hand on let Jan 1870, and you have $506.658 72 as the total available revenue for the year.

THE CIVIL LIST BILL.—Her Majesty has assented to the Civil List Bill of last session and the law officer of the Crown has given it as his opinion that the Bill involves no principle of pensions, and that it will be just as competent for the local Legislature to amend or repeal it as any other local statute. not too bad that the colony should have been 'stumped' for naught? What will Othello do, now that his occupation's gone?

ITEMS IN BRIEF .- The Isabel arrived from Nanaimo on Sunday with coal for the Starr Line The Nanaimo Free Masons has a grand pionic on Saturday......The D C Taylor and Shooting Star were ready for sea on Sunday......The U S surveying brig Fauntleroy lies at Cadboro Bay......All the public accounts will be closed on the 19th July.

SAN JUAN MAIL. - Capt Coupe has been warded a renewal of the contract for carrying the mail from Port Townsend to San Juan Island. The steamer Success will make the trip on Mondays instead of Tuesdays as be-Ir is reported that the member for Vic-soria District, taking alarm at the prospect of a successful opposition for the Commons in his own district, is about to canvass the country districts-although, we are per-suaded, his chances will be even more slim there than in the city.

DEATH OF MR. W. CAEN .- Mr W Caen, one of our earliest and oldest French residents, died last evening, baving attained an advanced age. Mr Caen was a pioneer buness man, but of late years his infirmities have been such as to unfit him for active pursuits, and after a long and painful illness ne feil asleep at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr L Blum -"Like one who draws the drapery of his couch About him, and hes down to pleasant dream:",

(FROM THE TIMES CORRESPONDENT.)

VERSAILLES, May 21, 7 45 P M.

Never have I witnessed a scene of greater excitement than the entry of Rochefort iuto Versnilles as a prisoner orday. He was brought in by the St Germain road, and was seated in a amily ominbus drawn by two horses. First came a squadron of gendarmes, then the ominbus, surrounded by Chassuers D'Afrique, and lastly a squadron of the same corps. In the vehicle with Rochefort were his secretary, Mourio', and four police agents dressed in plain Outside the omoibus were an officer of the gendarmie in uniform and two or three sergents-de-ville not in uniform. Rochefort's moustache had disappeared. Ho had himself shave? closely before setting out from Paris in order to disguise nimself, but there was no mistaking him. It was balf-past 1 o'clock in the afternoon when the cortege, arriving at the end of the Boulevard du Roi, entered the Rue des Reservoirs. Every one ran into the streets and shouts of execuation were raised on all sides It was no mere demonstration of a mob. The citizens of all classes joined in it. One man ventured to cry 'Vive Rochefort!' He was kicked by several persons who happened to be near him, and was saved from further violence only by arrest at the hands of the sergents-de-ville Along the Rue des Roservous, the Rue de la Pompe, the Piace Hoche, the Rue de Hoche, and the Avenue S. Cloud Rochefort was greated with incessant sbonts of ' A bas lassassin ; a pied le brigand; a mort! The people wanted to have him out of the omnibus, pace, but finally be was safely lodged in guol. I believe that but for the precautions taken by the Government he would have been killed before he had got near it. The demand to have example made of him, and the dissatisfaction at seeing him brought to prison in a carriage, were loud and general
